

AFFORDABILITY

Protect Affordable Coverage and Care

Enhanced and expanded ACA tax credits have lowered costs for tens of millions of Americans and enabled families across the nation to secure coverage for the first time. But these enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025. Millions of Americans will see their premiums spike. American families deserve access to sustainable and predictable health coverage.

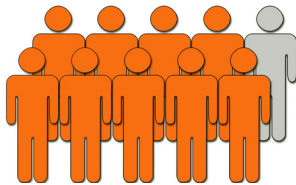

A RECORD HIGH

21.3
million
people

enrolled in ACA plans

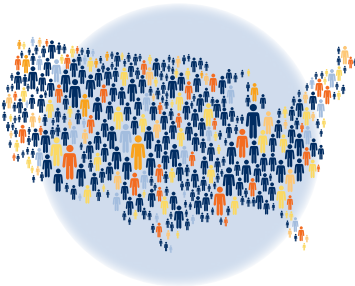

On average,
working families saved $2,400
per year on premiums
thanks to ACA tax credits

9 out of 10 of people enrolled in individual plans benefit from ACA tax credits

Without these tax credits:

9 million
Americans will see their premiums jump

5 million
Americans
won't be able to afford coverage at all

Combined with the end of the public health emergency — which forced millions off Medicaid — ending enhanced ACA tax credits cause a health coverage crisis.

Congress must make enhanced and expanded ACA tax credits permanent.

For more information please contact Trica Guay at tguay@achp.org.

Learn more about how ACHP is fighting to protect and improve individual coverage: achp.org/ACA